McKINLEY GETS IT.

Ohio Republicans Honor the Author of the Tariff Law.

Amid Wild Enthusiasm the State Convention Nominates Him for Governor by Acclamation.

THE PLATFORM.

COLUMBUS, O., June 17.—The second day's proceedings of the republican state convention were opened by prayer, after which the report of the committee on credentials was presented and adopted. The committee on permanent organization reported, amid applause, the name of Gen. Asa S. Bushnell, of Clark county, for permanent chairman of the convention, and E. J. Kensinger, of Athens, for permanent secretary. Chairman Bushnell's name was received with cheers.

The committee on resolutions was then announced, and after a brief recess Foraker arose to present the name of William McKinley for governor. The ex-governor was wildly received, and his remarks received frequent interruptions by the cheering audience. Col. Robert Harlow, the old war governor of Ohio, then seconded Maj. McKinley's nomination "on behalf of the colored voters of Ohio." With one wild, hilarious burst of affirmation, the convention declared Major McKinley nominated governor by acclamation, and a committee was appointed to appoint him of his nomination and escort him to the hall. His appearance was the signal for another outburst of enthusiasm. Mr McKinley spoke at considerable length on the issues of the day, and was followed by Senator Sherman. A speech by Secretary Foster, who is declared at Washington, was read. It was received mainly by defending the appropriations of the last congress.

Short work was made of the other nominations, which are as follows: Lieutenant-governor, Andrew L. Harris, Preble county; auditor, John W. Peck, Wood county; treasurer, W. F. Cope, Cleveland.

The committee on resolutions submitted the platform. The features are a general plank commending the recent and principles of the republican party, reaffirming the doctrines of protection and commending the McKinley bill; demanding protection for the wool industry equal to that accorded the most favored manufacturers of woolen goods; demanding a free ballot; demanding the enactment of laws to protect our country against the influx of the pauperism and criminal classes of foreign nations and the importation of laborers to compete with our own citizens; favoring liberal pensions; economy in the administration of national and state affairs, simple educational facilities for the whole people, restraint of combinations of capital for unlawful purposes in pursuance of the principles of the Sherman law; a liberal policy in the matter of public lands for settlers, and reboring to the public domain all acres improperly railroad land grants; favoring a system of gold and silver as the basis of currency; commending the Harrison administration and his foreign policy; commending the passage of the silver bill by the last congress; indorsing reciprocity; commending the course of Senator Sherman and other Ohio republican members in congress; recommending favorable legislation for farmers; condemning the Campbell administration and commending the administration of Gov. Forster.

Started Their Horses

PINE BLUFFS, Ark., June 17.—The white drummers in the employ of the consolidated street railroad quit the service of the company Tuesday because the stock had not been used. The drivers say the mules can do nothing to eat for four days. Negroes took the places of the whites. The company claim that they could not secure horse feed, but the positive conviction is that it was a strike of servants. Some public action will probably be taken.

The Twins to Pair.

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 17.—The first earnest attempt to unite St. Paul and Minneapolis was begun Tuesday, the leaders in the movement being Archbishop Ireland, Ex-Gov. Marshall and Senator Stevens. The proposition is to call the two municipalities Twin City.

CLAUDE DUVAL

Outdone By the King of a Band of Brigands in Turkey.

A dispatch from Constantinople gives an alarming account of the increase of brigandage in various parts of the Turkish empire. In the Turkish province known as old Servia a brigand chief named Mihran has established himself in the mountains with about eighty followers, and lives in princely fashion. Each household pays Mihran a sum in proportion to his possessions. Christians being obliged to pay about double the amount exacted from Turks. Mihran is said to be a renegade Italian, and he holds his followers in complete discipline. One of them having been shown to have plundered a peasant who had punctually paid his blackmail, Mihran had the offender's ears and hands cut off, and sent them in a bag to the injured peasant. Mihran exacts from every one the honors due to the rank of pasha. The Turkish authorities have a demonstration of attacking the brigands about three months ago, but without their forces without having done anything of consequence. Mihran remained in seclusion for a few days, and then suddenly descended on the villages and collected all the amounts that the peasantry has agreed to pay.

A DELUGE.

Many Houses Swept from Their Foundations, and Three Children Drowned in the Illinois Valley.

A terrific rain-storm swept through the Illinois river valley Wednesday night, doing great damage to crops, gardens and fences. In Hilton, a small town across the river from Pekin, numerous houses were washed from their foundations. The inhabitants fled, scantily clothed, to the railroad grade and hills. The water rose in the houses at Farmdale, seven miles east, to a depth of three feet, and many people narrowly escaped drowning. Herds of cows, horses and hogs were driven to the railroad grade, but a large tract is the valley are utterly ruined. In Copperas creek valley, just across the line, in Fulton county, a family named Gray, had a cabin. When the flood left the banks the father took his three boys and started to the hills, while the mother refused to leave the house. When half way across the valley a floating log struck Gray and stunned him. The rushing waters drowned the boys, aged twelve, eight and five. The father narrowly escaped by clinging to the log. His wife climbed to the roof of the house, and was rescued later.

Gen. Scofield Married.

The marriage of Miss Georgia Killbourne, daughter of Mrs. George Killbourne, of Duluth, Minn., and Maj. M. Schofield, major-general commanding the armies of the United States, took place at the residence of the bride's father, St. John's Episcopal church. Gen. Schofield was in the full uniform of major-general of U. S. army. Rev. C. Mellwais, rector of the church, performed the ceremony, and Bishop Perkins, pastor of the Episcopal church of Iowa, pronounced the final benediction.

War This Time, Sure.

The statement of the Fasfulla is confirmed that Signor Corte, the late Italian minister to Washington, has prepared a report on the lynching affair in that city, in which he affirms that the victims belonged to no particular society, but were murdered simply because they were Italians and were competing with the native laborers. This report is not included in any of the green books published on this affair.

Army Worm on the March.

Secretary Mohler, of the Kansas state board of agriculture, announces that the army worm is marching steadily appeared in Central and Western Kansas. Specimens were sent to him from Barton county, and he has examined the state university. The army worm is the most damaging of wheat pests, but it has been operating long enough to make any estimate of the damage possible.

Murderer Schools Ranged.

OUR FLAG INSULTED

While Minister Fred Douglass Stands Idly By.

The Crazy President of Hayti Still Riding Of His Enemies.

According to a letter received at New York from Port-au-Prince President Hippolyte attempted on May 30 to put four political prisoners from the Mexican consulate in the Haytien capital. When the entire diplomatic corps called on the president May 30, to protest against violation of international law, Hippolyte attempted to play a high-handed game of bluff, and he might have succeeded had not the German consul threatened to report the matter to his government. Minister Fred Douglass, it is said in the letter, stood tremblingly with folded arms. Some of the police insult the flag of every civilized post, insulting his own, and he did not dare offer a protest. Terror now reigns supreme at Port-au-Prince. Hippolyte continues to kill his supposed enemies, and Minister Douglass looks on and sees it all. The real instigators and leaders of the movement against him have escaped the clutches of the police, and are still at large. Hippolyte, the writer thinks, is undoubtedly insane. It is stated that many arrivals called on him he became angry, and rushed out of the room and was soon heard beating his head against the wall. The consuls were leaving when the minister of foreign affairs came in and begged them to remain, saying that the president had been summoned away on important matters, but would return immediately. The consuls, however, went out and apparently remained seated with Hippolyte, who soon re-entered the room and remained nearly on the same grounds mentioned by his minister. Referring again to Minister Douglass, the writer says he evidently regards the Haytien government with much more veneration than his own. The writer says, moreover, that as the United States claims a moral jurisdiction over Hayti, it is about time a minister of ability was appointed there to replace Douglass. Members of the diplomatic corps have appealed in vain to Douglass to sustain the moral position the Monroe doctrine calls for, but in vain.

GEN. PIKE'S WILL.

Masons and the Government Among the Beneficiaries.

The will of the late Gen. Albert Pike, grand commander of the Scottish Rite order of Masonry of the southern jurisdiction, has been filed. He leaves all articles of personality to trustees for the benefit of the order of which he was grand commander and directs that any of his children attempt to contest the will or dispute its terms they shall forfeit what is devised to them. The fee to which he is entitled in the Scottish Rite Journal he leaves to his two sons and daughters, and all his real estate in Arkansas to his son, Yron Pike. The residue of the treasury of the United States arising from its sale under process of law, Pike directs shall be used in little Rock for he wills to the United States, to place in the hands of the honest title deeds, and no longer hold them as the deeds of plundering under the form of law, and also the indebtedness of the United States to me for horses taken by me in the military service of the United States in Mexico."

Caught in a Squall.

A skiff containing Will H. Beenlsey, Will Hodge, Jack Midgley and Fred Kriepke, white, and E. H. Wood and Thomas Eldridge, colored, was capsized in the river at Cairo, near Holcomb, Ill., Friday evening and capsized. The two first named white men were drowned, as were the gallows Thursday, passed his last night on earth in chatting and laughing with his guards and playing a game of game pinochle. His ate a hearty supper.

SEVEN DROWNED.

Tragic End of a Picnic Held by Colored People, Crossed by a Drunken Man.

Colored people went to Curtis creek in great numbers Sunday to view the sport where seven of their friends were drowned Saturday night, and to search for the bodies. Not one of the bodies was recovered up to a late hour Sunday night. Saturday morning a party of colored picnickers left the Chairs farm in the bagges Thomas B. Bowen and came to Baltimore. They were returning at night. While the wagon was basking up the creek Samuel Barnes and Seaton intercepted it in the middle of the stream in a rowboat. They pulled alongside the hagege and called to the negroes on board to jump into their craft. Several of them did so. The tents person to leave the vessel was entirely drunk, and stepped on the side of the rowboat. It and the entire party were thrown into the water. A strong breeze was blowing at the time, and the waves were running rapidly away. Before it could be brought around the struggling men and women in the water were several hundred yards distant. The tug Mohawk, which was in the vicinity, rescued Richard and Isaac Titus and Samuel Barnes. The latter was under the water for some time, and was thought to be drowned. Among the drowned are: Geogiana Titus, Al Reaster, Lulu Mason, John Houston, Herman Hanlin, a man known as "Oldney" and an unknown man.

BATTLE WITH A SNAKE.

Fearless Fort Bon Constrictor Escapes in a Dealer's Store.

Herman Halle, a dealer in animals in New York had a lively experience with a boa constrictor on Saturday. A few days ago he received an order from a circus foe one of the largest of his stock. Mr. Halle had one measuring fourteen feet in length. He removed it from its box and placed it in a bag. Mr. Halle's thirteen-year-old daughter and two friends were also present. There was a hole in the bottom of the bag which Mr. Halle did not noticed. After placing the boa in the bag, Mr. Halle placed his right foot on the neck of the bag to prevent any reptile from escaping. While he was thus engaged his daughter Julia's color rang out with alarm. The reptile had made its escape from the hole in the bag. Halle's friends ran from the store, leaving him, with his child, to battle with the snake. The father grasped with both feet upon the boa, and seized it by the head. It was then the struggle began. The snake succeeded in coiling its body around Mr. Halle's arm, and it was not until after a long struggle that he succeeded in placing it safely into the box. It is with difficulty that Mr. Halle can use his arm, which was badly bruised. The snake was shipped later in the day to the exhibition

WRITING BY TELEGRAPH.

Reproduction of Legible Characters in Facsimile by Wire Likely Soon to Be Made.

The Writing Telegraph Co. succeeded Sunday in transmitting handwriting 5,000 miles, the distance of the Postal Telegraph Co.'s line between Chicago and New York. The test was made in the main office of the Postal Co. at the Chicago end, under the direction of General Manager Gump and in the presence of many newspaper men. The rain east of the Rocky Mountains and the frequent contact with wires interfered with the writing and destroyed the legibility of the characters, but the ability of the instrument to reproduce the handwriting was proved to the satisfaction of all present. A message written by a correspondent in New York was received, and every letter was distinctly drawn.

The Esmeralda Gets in Trouble.

The Chilian legation in Washington Sunday, received a telegram from Peru which states that an interesting affair when the war ship Esmeralda, after her voyage to San Diego, arrived at the port of Callao, and was anchored in the harbor. Soon after, landed fifty men to take possession of the provisions on the vessels. The employes of the workingmen in care of the island attacked the men from the vessel, killing three, and also capturing their arms. The Esmeralda fired shotly after, exhausting her ammunition. The Peruvians provided a battery and defense that the Chilian government declined any benefit from the Lobos islands. Business has been stopped since January. Perfect order reigns in Chili, and the army, well disciplined, is anxious to go to Tarapaca and make an end of the nitrate speculators."

Death of Ex-Senator McDonald.

Ex-Senator McDonald died at his home in Indianapolis, Ind., Sunday night at 11:45 o'clock apparently without pain, and after having lain in a semi-comatose condition for three hours preceding his demise. Early Sunday morning he became convinced that the end was near, and calling Mrs. McDonald to his bedside, he gave a few simple directions regarding his funeral.

DRIVEN OUT.

A War Against Italians in Louisiana.

An Attack Made Upon Them While They Sleep, and Many Killed or Run For Their Lives.

A race riot between laborers employed by Contractor Workley, at Heman's camp at the chain of rocks, a point twenty miles up the river from New Louis, where the new water works are being constructed, occurred between 1 and 2 o'clock Sunday morning. Seven Italian was dangerously stabbed, twenty-two of his fellow-countrymen driven from their camp, their valuables and money confiscated by the gang of American and other laborers making the attack, and a race panic inaugurated. The riot was primarily caused by the advent into camp of Italians, who, it is alleged, accepted work that Contractor Workley had gone to Chicago for more. All Saturday a feeling of resentment against the employment of Italian labor had been gaining in strength and bitterness. As soon as the laborers were paid off Saturday evening, they congregated as usual at a saloon just outside the city limits, where drinking and a free game of poker was the order of the day. The latter

NOW READY!

THE HICKMAN COURIER.

HICKMAN, KY.,

FRIDAY, : : : : JUNE 26, 1891.

FOR STATE SENATOR.

We are authorized to announce Mr. W. W. WEBSTER, nominee for the Democratic Party, as a candidate to represent Hickman, Fulton and Graves counties in the next Senate of Kentucky.

We are authorized to announce Mr. JOHN W. COWGILL as a candidate to represent the counties of Hickman, Fulton and Graves in the next State Senate, subject to the action of the Democratic party. Election in August next.

We are authorized to announce the Hon. HENRY GEORGE, of Graves county, as a candidate to represent Hickman, Fulton and Graves counties in the next State Senate, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

For the Legislature.

We are authorized to announce Mr. P. B. HAYS, of Clinton, Ky., as a candidate for Representative from the counties of Hickman and Fulton, subject to the action of the Democratic Convention, to be held in Fulton, July 2nd, 1891.

We are authorized to announce Mr. E. C. HAWKES, of Fulton, as a candidate to represent the counties of Hickman and Fulton in the Lower House of the next Legislature, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

TO REPRESENT HICKMAN AND FULTON COUNTIES.

To the Voters of Hickman and Fulton Counties—At the urgent request and solicitations of friends, and having no honest ambition to do so, and believing that I can serve the people acceptably and satisfactorily, I hereby announce myself as a candidate to represent you in the next General Assembly, subject to the action of the Democratic Convention at Fulton, Ky., on July 2nd, 1891. The time is so brief that it will be impossible for me to see you individually, but to strangers I will say that I believe I can safely refer them to any of my acquaintances for information as to who I am and what I am. I assure you no one would more highly appreciate your support, and if you should choose me as your candidate, and eventually elect me, it would be my pride and duty to cause no regret at my selection for the position.

Respectfully, WM. THOMAS.

AN OPEN CARD.

To Whom It May Concern.

I am caused to believe that some Democrats have obtained the impression that I am a candidate for State Senator, and hence this card for the purpose of stating that I AM NOT A CANDIDATE FOR THAT OR ANY OTHER office. In the beginning of the contest I was a candidate, and because of sickness in my family withdrew from the race. My withdrawal was in good faith, and the same cause that induced it then, exists to-day. The present candidates for the position treated me with generous consideration, and, perhaps, in appreciation of this I may have been at fault in not more conspicuously acknowledging the claims of a longer and closer personal association with one than the other. If, however, there is one or more in this Senatorial District who may prefer me over one or either of them, I most sincerely excuse them from any expression of such partiality, and ask that they wave personal favor as to me, and hold themselves ready to rally to our party's contest, for, unless I misread the signs existing, there is more need now of Democrats acting harmoniously, without jars or bickerings, than ever before in the history of our Legislative contests. For my own part, with gratitude to all and ill will to no one, I shall, in the future as in the past, continue to love God, hate the devil, and always vote the Democratic ticket.

GEO. WARREN

W. W. Webster Nominated.

Mr. W. W. Webster, of Fulton county, was selected as the nominee of the 3rd Party, by the meeting at Water Valley, Monday, for senator. He is an old citizen, well known, has been a candidate for the Legislature several times, is a man of fine intelligence, of an aggressive nature, and will fight every inch of ground. He accepts the nomination, as will be seen by a regular announcement in this issue. For him, personally, the COURIER entertains the kindest regards, for he is a clever, hospitable and progressive citizen, and amongst other good personal qualities is a good friend of long standing of the COURIER. Two years ago he made a strong race against the Democratic nominee for Representative carrying Hickman county by a snug majority and in Fulton he was weakened by local matters.

S. B. Erwin, the deposed President of the Kentucky Farmers' Alliance, announces his acceptance of the gubernatorial nomination at the hands of the People's Party.

ATTEND THE PRIMARIES.

TO-MORROW (SATURDAY) THE DAY SELECT DELEGATES TO FULTON CONVENTION.

The Democrats of Fulton, Hickman and Graves counties are called upon to attend precinct primaries at their respective voting places on Saturday, June 27th, at 2 o'clock, p. m., for the purpose of selecting delegates to attend the Democratic Convention to assemble at Fulton at 12 o'clock, on July 2nd, to nominate a Democratic candidate for State Senator.

At the same time and places the Democrats of Hickman and Fulton counties will select delegates to attend a convention at Fulton on the same day to nominate a Democratic candidate for Representative to Hickman and Fulton counties.

The primaries in each precinct are to be called to order at 2 o'clock, p. m., by the precinct member of the county committee. If present, but if absent or failing to act, by motion of any Democrat present.

The first business in order is the election of a chairman and secretary. After this is done any and all other proceedings should be as the majority directs.

In the Fulton Convention each precinct will be entitled to one vote for each 25 votes cast for Cleveland in 1888, and one for each fraction of 13 and over.

In Fulton county the vote for Cleveland was: Hickman, 321; Fulton, 274; Ledgton, 153; Cayce, 96; Jordan, 72; Sassafras Ridge, 30; Madrid Bend, 25—total 963. This entitles the county to 38 votes in the Fulton convention, and the precincts as follows:

Hickman, 13.
Fulton, 11.
Ledgton, 5.
Cayce, 4.
Jordan, 3.
Sassafras, 1.
Madrid Bend, 1.

The COURIER has not the vote of Hickman or Graves county by precincts, and therefore does not publish it, but it is given in the aggregate by report: Graves, 98; Hickman, 41; Fulton, 38—total 177. It will take 89 vote to nominate for Senator, if the majority rule prevails, and in the Legislative convention, if all in the correct vote of Hickman county, it will require 40 votes to nominate under the same rule.

THE CANDIDATES.

For State Senator we will have before the convention the names of Mr. Henry George, of Graves county, and Mr. John W. Cowgill, of Fulton county. They are both straight Democrats and competent men, and whatever partiality may be shown for Cowgill in Fulton county will not be in any disparagement of any opponents, but because he is a Fulton county man, and many feel that Fulton is entitled to the Senator this time. There is, of course, as seems before nearly every convention, the customary talk of "a dark horse," but the chances are decidedly in favor of one of the declared candidates.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE,

there are a number of candidates—3 from Hickman county and 2 from Fulton.

Mr. P. B. Hayes, of Hickman county, is a straight democrat, without a blemish in his record, as we are told by his friends, and withal a most excellent and competent man.

Mr. Mac Watkins, of Hickman county, is an democrat, well grounded in the original faith of the fathers, as we are advised, is an active Alliance man, and not only a farmer but a successful and good one.

Henry Samuels is not an announced candidate, but is a published card announces that he will accept the nomination if given him by the Democrats, &c., and we learn that his name will be supported in the primaries. He is better known in Fulton county than either of the other Hickman county candidates. He is a gentleman, a good man, honest, upright and of the stricts at integrity in politics as in business and every day life. His nomination by the state will operate to his disadvantage. The old doctrine of "the office seeking the man" is pure, sound and true, but in the practical politics of these latter days seldom has a fair hearing.

Mr. Wm Thomas, of Fulton, is a young lawyer of fine talent and the very brightest promise, and ordinarily deserves to win almost anything he wants. He has some active supporters, many of whom are young men and full of hope as to success.

Mr. Ed Howes, also of Fulton, is reported as popular with those who know him best, and as specially popular with many farmers of Hickman and Fulton counties; and his supporters claim that he will be an easy winner.

The name of Judge Ed. Starks, the last few days is spoken of by some as an actual candidate, but the COURIER has had no authority to so announce. If he is a candidate, the two counties could scarcely find a more competent, worthy, or more honorable man, in any and all respects.

The COURIER hopes the proceedings at the Fulton Convention will be harmonious, and that honest and capable nominees will be named, and that the nominations will be reached by open, square and fair methods.

Half the Cost.

If the new Constitution is voted by the people in August, all future sessions of the State Legislature, after the first, will be positively limited to 60 days, and no possibility of extension. Under the present Constitution there is no limit to extensions. This will save the tax-payers at least half the present average cost.

JO BLACKBURN

has been made chairman of the state Committee in favor of the new Constitution and will take the stump in its behalf. He says that the opponents of the new Constitution begged the question before the Democratic Committee on Platform on the grounds that it ought not to be made a party issue, and thus obtaining consent not to endorse it, immediately on adjournment commenced to make capital by the opposition as true as a matter of truth the new Constitution is the work of an overwhelming majority of democratic delegates and the Democratic party of Kentucky is responsible for it, and should have the manhood to assume it as the friend of the people rather than of the corporations.

The Convention and Mr. Watterson.

Mr. Henry Watterson, editor of the Courier-Journal, which paper was the prime mover in the call for a convention to be held in Lexington by those who oppose the adoption of the new constitution, published a card of a column and a half in the Courier Journal, giving his reasons for his failure to attend the Lexington convention. He claims that his reasons are "largely, but not wholly personal."

Mr. Watterson says in explanation of his position:

"I might say, in general terms, and truly, that I am out of humor with the sound of my own voice, and in no mood to pass, abruptly, from the calm precincts of the moralist to the rude arena of the polemic, and so dismiss the matter."

He admits, however, that this would be rather a weak excuse by saying:

"But the ratification of a constitution is almost as serious as the making of one, and the duty of those charged with partisan responsibility in this regard will not admit of quibbles or conceits."

Mr. Watterson then discusses the authorship of these severe articles against the constitution which have appeared from day to day in that great paper. He says:

"Although I have written no line or word on the subjects, having been for the most part absent from the state I am shocked upon returning home to learn that I am part of a conspiracy to rob the people of their right to plunge over a precipice without discussing the consequences; and that my motive for assuming or seeking to assume leadership in this scheme of dishonorable obstruction are entirely "base."

After disclaiming the authorship of the many articles against the constitution he admits his responsibility, as appears from the following:

"But I cannot escape myself, and if I could, I cannot escape my calling. It is the business of my life, and I am supposed to be answerable for the contents of these columns.

Mr. Watterson then proceeds to give that no undertaking to be his principal reason for failing to be present and to participate in the fight against the horrors, although his paper stirred up the heat and is responsible for the convention that met in Lexington. He says:

"If I takes two to make a quarrel, and in this instance I refuse to be one of the two. I refuse to engage in any angry debates over that which should be considered with all possible deliberation."

It appears to a plain, old fashioned sort of a man that Mr. Watterson should have considered this matter before his influential paper called this convention.

A WORD OF WARNING!

TO DEMOCRATS OF HICKMAN, FULTON AND GRAVES COUNTIES.

The Democrats of Fulton and Hickman, and of Fulton, Hickman and Graves counties, have never known defeat. Democrats have so universally been elected that few think of any other result under any circumstances or contingencies, and because of this general fact few, when a contest is on, view the situation purely from a party standpoint—the success of principles which the party represents. Such a situation may sometimes lead to the supporting of candidates and the selection of nominees, because of personal favoritism and local influences of one kind or another. "Anything so my favorite can be the nominee the party and its principles are strong enough to win anyhow."

Such contest of this kind demoralizes some, and this disaffection grows, and in result the party and its principles suffer, for there be many who do not always hold their party blameless and above wrong when persons and leaders have made mistakes.

There is an unrest in the minds and feelings of many who are accustomed to voting the Democratic ticket, and the larger part of whom are Democrats. This element, chiefly farmers, are honestly impatient as to existing grievances, and naturally turn their eyes to their old party—the Democracy—for relief, and the Democracy has promised relief if the people ever put them in power. There is a wing of this same farmer element who scoff at any pretensions of sincerity on the part of Democrats as to keeping such promises.

Now then the plain question before the Democratic delegates to the Fulton Convention will be, which of these elements do you propose to strengthen and encourage?

The Democratic party recognizes no class distinctions as to vocations or callings in the bestowal of honors, and neither does it recognize geographical lines in such matters, but it has to deal face to face with the likes and dislikes of the people in such matters. In other words the party must be held in as close a touch with the people as is consistent with its true and sound principles; and at least should not go out of its way to offend a sentiment which does not affect sound principles.

The force of these words may be found in the last Legislative election in Hickman county when hundreds of Democrats voted against the nominee who had never before scratched the ticket, in the open revolt in Graves, and in the grumbling mutterings elsewhere. This article is published in the interest of no candidate or class, but purely in the hope that the delegates may give all the surroundings fair consideration, and avoid any and all complications and divisions that can be avoided without a compromise of principle; and if there be those who want a fight for fight sake let conservative minds reason with them.

OLD SADDLE-BAGS DEAD.

Ex-Senator Joseph E. McDonald died at Indianapolis Sunday night. His death was expected, and he passed away peacefully, surrounded by his family, after having said goodbye to friends and giving directions for his funeral. Senator McDonald was in many respects an exceptional man. With a big head, a big heart, a rugged strength and an unswerving integrity and fidelity to conviction through a long and honored public life, he leaves a name that will endure with the history of his State and his party. With a broad education, self acquired, he made his influence felt in the forum, in political leadership, exercising in the councils and among the masses of his party an influence commensurate with his force and sincerity of character. With his death passes away a lovable man, an accomplished scholar, a great lawyer, a sound and unflinching Democrat.

THE thought of the private philanthropist may mould a whole community.—Ecce Home.

FOUND ALMOST DEAD.

This is the condition that many persons are in when they commenced the use of Lemon Chill Tonic—but thanks to its magic power the same people are soon restored to perfect health—chills entirely broken, appetite restored, the blood enriched, the old languid and tired feeling gone. And while pleasant to take is surprising in its cure. Each bottle is guaranteed to break the worst chill and will guarantee the 7th and 14th days, will present their return. Manufactured by The Lemon Chemical Co., Jacksonville Fla., and New York, N. Y. Western wholesale depot, Paducah Ky., where all orders should be addressed. Price 50c. For sale by Cowgill & Cowgill.

TERRELL BACKED DOWN.

The President of Missouri State Alliance Refused a Division of Time.

[From Nashville Herald.]

Hon. U. S. Hall, who was formerly Secretary, and is now President of the Alliance in Missouri, is in the city, and will leave for home to-night. Though one of the most prominent Alliance leaders in the United States, he is strongly opposed to the Sub-Treasury scheme. When interviewed a Herald reporter last night he said:

It is stated in the Toiler, which is published here, that Ben Terrell, the ex-National Lecturer, who is speaking in Tennessee, would be let anyone on the stump to discuss the Sub-treasury proposition. Feeling that notice in the Toiler, and that he was to speak in Lecheford to-day, and being invited by the subordinate lodge to speak, I went down to answer him. He refused to divide time or come out into any discussion with me. The reason that he assigned was that he did not know what new arguments I might have. I had had some experience with him in Missouri, and I suppose that inclined him not to want to meet me in debate again.

"The Alliance in Missouri is which as large as any other State Alliance in the United States, and we are uncompromisingly opposed to the Sub-treasury scheme, the third party idea, and kindred heresies, believing that the Sub-treasury idea would ruin the farmers if put into practice, and that the third party movements is not one to be encouraged by the Alliance."

"The sub-Treasury scheme is being pushed only in the Democratic Southern States, and the object, in my judgment, is to divert attention from the tariff question and to commit the farmer to class legislation. These members and advocates of the sub-Treasury scheme, these lecturers and orators, are quite of them farmers, so far as I am able to learn, wherever in the United States I have found a big farmer he has always been opposed to the scheme."

FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE

Lemon Chill Tonic is more generally used, is more pleasant to take and more sure to cure than any chill tonic on the market. Its proprietors authorize the person, whose names are to this article, to guarantee each bottle to do what it should be is or refund the money. Any druggist of the unbearing stuff you had to give your children. It is so pleasant to take that they look with pleasure to the time for another dose. For sale by Cowgill & Cowgill.

THE DEMOCRATIC CHOICE.

The political prophets both of the Democratic and Republican parties are at sea as to who will be the Presidential nominees next year, and this uncertainty has added to the gabble and talk of the newspapers as well as of the people.

We believe that 8 out of every 10 democrats throughout the country as a first choice prefer Grover Cleveland over any other man, and perhaps an equal proportion of Republicans prefer Blaine over any Republican, and such preponderance of preference must have great weight in determining the result. Unquestionably Grover Cleveland would have had the nomination without opposition but for his anti-silver letter, and with this objection clearly removed we would still be the nominee. Latterly, many of the party leaders, and notably some of them staunch silver men, have come forward asserting that this objection now to Cleveland will be no objection next year assuming that the next congress will pass a satisfactory silver bill which is not at all unlikely at present, and that thereby the question will be removed. Others assert that Cleveland is a bimetalist, and that his position as to silver is precisely as his single shot tariff message meant when President to keep Tariff Reform to the front as the great issue before the people.

If these conjectures materialize Grover Cleveland will be the nominee. But, it is useless to deny that with the feeling now existing in the West and South that thousands of democrats would prefer another, not for any objection to the man, but because of his position on the silver question.

Mr. Blaine can be the Republican nominee if his loyalty to Harrison permits it. But, Blaine out of the way, Harrison is sure of a renomination.

It Should Be In Every House.

J. B. Wilson, 373 Clay St., Sharpsburg, Pa., says he will not be without Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, that it cured his wife who was threatened with Pneumonia after an attack of "La Grippe," when various other remedies and several physicians had done her no good. Robert Barber, of Conkeport, Pa., claims Dr. King's New Discovery has done him more good than anything he ever used for Lung Trouble. Nothing like it. Try it. Free Trial Bottles at C. A. Holcomb's Drug Store. Large bottles, 50c. and $1.00.

SPRING MILLINERY!

While all nature is rejoicing in the return of Spring, the hearts of all women should be gladdened by the good news that Spring Hats have come to hand in such beautiful variety and quality as to almost bewilder one. There are many new and striking designs introduced for the first time this season. Flowers, which have taken such a firm hold, still retain their supremacy as the leading garniture on hats, and, as well in nature vied with art in this particular, one only misses the fragrance to believe they are real. Surely no lady who has an eye for the beautiful, can, or will, forego the pleasure of a NEW HAT, when she sees in what alluring devices they come. Ribbons are still in the lead as trimming, and come in all the new and beautiful shades. Great care has been taken in the selection of my goods, and every effort made to secure for my customers the latest and most correct Paris styles. My patterns are models of exquisite taste and beauty. Never before has art, in the hands of skillful artists, shown such ingenuity as the Millinery of the present season. Hoping my endeavor to furnish my customers with the most fashionable goods, at the very lowest prices, will still merit their kind patronage. A most cordial invitation is extended to all to call and see for themselves the many beautiful and attractive articles that I have not the time and space to mention.

Respectfully,

ADDIE L. JONES.

H. Clay King's Trial.

The trial of H. Clay King for the killing of Mr. Poston, a prominent Memphis lawyer, has been in progress the past two weeks at Memphis, Col. King the war-time famous commander of King's battalion, was once a resident of Western Kentucky, himself a prominent lawyer, and well-known to a large number of older citizens, and, therefore, the proceedings of his trial looked to with some interest. From the evidence the State has made out a strong case of murder in the first degree. The witnesses for the prosecution swore that he shot Poston without warning, and without provocation, and, circumstantially, that he had been laying in wait to do the deed. King, himself, on the stand, swore that his meeting Poston was unexpected, that he asked Poston for retraction of charges against himself and wife, that Poston refused, abused him, and started to assault him by advancing with his hand apparently ready to draw a pistol, and that he shot Poston to self-defense. His testimony was partially supported by one witness, but the prosecution introduced several witnesses who swore they would not believe him on oath. The defense then introduced a number of witnesses to prove that King was insane, and different ones testified as to his peculiar conduct at times, that he had been treated by physicians as if he had manipnorto, &c., and brought forward a bill for divorce and marriage he had prepared as evidence that he was insane. The prosecution then introduced a number, amongst them some lawyers, who testified that he was sane, that he was an able lawyer.

PETITION TO SURVEY ACTION ON WATER WORKS.

Mr. M. B. Shaw, in behalf of himself and a number of other citizens, presented and read to the Council the following petition:

To the Honorable Mayor and Council of the City of Hickman, Ky:

Greeting.—We, the undersigned citizens and tax payers of your city, do here by respectfully ask your honorable body to refuse to close the contract or to issue the bonds recently voted to build waterworks in our city, for the present at least, believing it to be for the best interest of every citizen of our city that the contemplated improvement should be postponed: M. B. Shaw, R. B. Bernard, John Wittenberg, J. W. Powell, D. B. Bryant, J. W. Dale, W. C. Johnson, Alf Herrle, W. S. Kilsong, A. M. DeBow, B. Gaser, F. E. Case, W. B. Powell, C. H. Hubbard, J. T. Stephens, W. T. Bookner, T. J. Kirkpatrick, C. B. Taylor, D. E. Wilson, Jas. C. Weare, J. E. Buchner, H. C. Judge, H. J. Fussy, J. F. Gray, Wm. F. Geyer, Jas. Moore, Chas. Holcombe, Jr., B. F. Pillow, jr., R. A. Farris, A. P. Bells, C. A. Holcombe, R. S. Murrell, P. J. Frano, A. M. Terry, Wm. Schupbach, M. M. Mey, Wm. Stokes, J. N. Glatten, W. A. Lowery, Mat. Johnson, Thos. R. Middleton, John Swindon, Creech, John Downey, J. D. Witting, Jno. J. C. Witting, Geo. Shaw, W. N. Ligon, John R. Hargrove, myself, R. E. Butts, C. E. Anderson, J. C. Welch, D. H. Irish, Geo. Hess, John T. Cassetty, J. H. Nelson, T. A. Ledford, C. B. Hackett, T. J. Clay, F. M. King, E. Case, C. M. Adams, M. Williams, D. L. Montgomery, B. F. Shaw, Chas. Meier, J. M. Reid, L. Cole, A. D. Kingston and A. G. Holmes by W. C. Johnson, J. F. Kasery, Geo. R. Glover, C. W. Taylor, C. E. Armstrong, R. H. Smith and W. Brandebrink.

On motion it is ordered that the petition be received and filed.

After due and careful consideration of the petition read, the Council are of the unanimous opinion that in view of the fact that at the recent election for the purpose of ascertaining the will of the voters and tax payers of the city on the question of issuing bonds for the purpose of constructing a system of water works, a large majority of the qualified voters and tax payers thereof in, only three votes being cast as against it, and in the further consideration of the fact that the Council, acting upon the will of the qualified voters and tax payers, as declared by their votes, have proceeded to perfect plans and specifications, upon which bids and propositions have been received for the construction of the plant, &c. In view of these facts, and believing in their judgment that a system of water works as proposed to be constructed will result in the best interest of the city, they are of the opinion that the will of the people, as expressed at the recent election to the question of water works, be carried out.

Communications and propositions for building the water works were read by Mayor Cowgill, and upon investigation by the Council it is ascertained that the proposition of Messrs Hartford & Heberton is the lowest and best, and by a unanimous vote of the Council it is ordered and directed that the Mayor telegraph Messrs. Hartford & Heberton to come on Monday next to make contract for completion of the work, as per plans and specifications previously agreed upon.

On motion, Council adjourned.

Attest,

EXPLAINING the necessity for printing display advertisements the Arkansas Baptist, published in Little Rock, makes an admission that should arouse the interest of church members everywhere. The Baptist declares that "there is no religious paper in the West whose circulation is sufficient to pay its running expenses," and "to throw out the advertising would be to strand them in short order."

THE true reward of work well done is the having done it.—Anon.

GET HOMESICK.

Homesick for Your God, Homesick for Heaven.

From the Innocent Country Into the Wicked City—Dr. Talmage's Appeal to Young Men.

Dr. Talmage on Sunday called his sermon: "The Homesick Soul," and his text was from the parable of the Prodigal Son, Luke xv., 18: "I will arise and go to my father."

There is nothing like homesickness to take the energy out of a man. A hungry man can toil neither with pen nor hand nor foot. There has been many an army defeated not so much for lack of ammunition as for lack of bread. It was that fact that took the fire out of this young man of the text. Storm and earthquake will wear out any man's life in time, but hunger makes quick work. The most awful cry ever heard on earth is the cry for bread. A merchantman in the hot Indian Minor there are trees which bear fruit looking very much like the long bean of our tables. It is called the carob.

Once in a while the people reduced to desperation would eat these carobs, but generally the carobs, the beans spoken of here in the text, were thrown only to the swine and they crunched them with great avidity. But the young man of my text could not exist on carobs without stealing them. So one day amid the swine troughs he begins to soliloquize. He says: "Those swine are clothes for a rich man's son to wear; this is no kind of a business for a boy to be engaged in—feeding swine; I'll go home; I'll go home, I will arise and go to my father."

I know there are a great many people who try to throw a fascination, a romance, a halo about sin; but notwithstanding all that Lord Byron and Geo. Sand have said in regard to it, it is a mean, low, contemptible business, and putting food and fodder into the mouth of a herd of iniquities that root and wallow in the soul of man is a very poor business for men and women to be headed to be sons and daughters of the Lord Almighty. And when this young man resolved to go home I have a very wise thing for him to do, and the only question is whether we will follow him. Satan promises that if we will serve him; but he clothes his victims with rags, and he pinches them with hunger, and when they start out to do better he sets after them all the blood-hounds of perdition. Satan comes to us to-day and he promises all luxuries, all emoluments if we will only serve him. Liar, down with thee to the pit! "The wages of sin is death." O the young man of the text was wise when he uttered the resolution: "I will arise and go to my father."

In the time of Mary, the persecutor, a persecutor came to Christian woman who had hidden in her house for the Lord's sake one of Christ's servants, and the persecutor said: "Where is that heretic?" The Christian woman said: "You open that trunk and you will see the heretic." The persecutor opened the trunk and on the top of the linen of the trunk he saw a glass. He said: "There is no heretic here." "Ah!" she said, "you look in the glass and you will see the heretic." As I take up the mirror of God's word to-day, would that instead of seeing the prodigal son of the text, we might see ourselves—our want, our wandering, our lost, our lost condition, so that we might be as wise as this young man was and say: "I will arise and go to my father."

The resolution of this text was formed in disgust at his present circumstances. If this young man had been by his employer set to cultivating flowers, or training vines over an arbor, or sweeping account of the poor market, or overseeing other laborers, he would not have become homesick. It is for this reason: a man never wants the Gospel until he realizes he is in a famine-stricken state. Nobody ever will come to you in your home and you never will, good, robust health, and I should begin to talk to you about salvation, and about how much better this medicine is than that, and some other medicine than some other medicine, and how much about this physician and that physician. After awhile you would get tired, and you would say: "I don't want to hear about medicines. Why do you talk to me of physicians? I never was sick a day." But suppose I come into your house and I find you severely sick, and I know the medicines that will cure you, and I know the physician who is skillful enough to meet you case.

You say: "Bring on that medicine, bring on that physician. I am terribly sick and I want help." If I came to you and you feel you are all right in body and all right in mind, and all right in soul, you have need of nothing; but suppose I have personally got your case, leprosy of sin is upon you, the worst of all sickness. O! then you say: "Bring on the balm of the Gilead, bring on that divine medicament, bring me Jesus Christ.

Not says some one to the audience, "How do you prove that we are in a ruined condition by sin?" I will not prove it in two ways, and you may have your choice. I can prove it either by the statutes of men, or by the statutes of God. Which shall it be? You all say: "Let us have the statement of God." Well, he says in the text of the "The heart is deceitful above all things and desperately wicked." He says in another place: "Who can know that he should be clean? and he which is born of woman that he should be righteous?" He says in another place: "There is none that doeth good, no, not one."

He says in another place: "As by one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin, and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned." Well," you say, "I am willing to acknowledge that, but why should I take the particular recase that you propose?" This is the reason: "Except that a man be born again he can not see the kingdom of God." This is the reason: "There is one name given under heaven whereby we must Thereby they may be saved." Then there are a thousand voices here ready to say: "Well, I am ready to accept this help of the gospel; I would like to have this divine cure: how shall I go to work?" Let me say that a mere whim, an undefined longing amounts to nothing. You must have a stout, tremendous resolution like this young man of the text when he said: "I will arise and go to my father."

"O" says some man, "how do I know my Father wants me? How dod know, if I go back, I would be received?" was. Where is the broken vow? There is a man who said, long ago: "If I could live to the year 1901, by that time I will have my business matters arranged, and I will have time to attend to religion, and I will be a good, thorough, consecrated Christian." The year 1901 has come—January, February, March, April, May, June—almost half of the year gone. Where is your broken vow? "O," says some man, "I all started to that when I got out of the starter fixed up; when I can get over my evil habits; I am now given to strong drink." Do you know that when you go to unclean ness and to drunkenness, you are on the down grade? You say: "When I get my present habits, then I'll be a thorough Christian."

My brother, you will get worse and worse until Christ takes you in hand. "Not the righteous; sinners, Jesus came to call."

O! but you say: "I agree with you on all that, but I must put it off a little longer." Do you know that many, many who came just as near as you are to the kingdom of God and never entered it? I was at Saint Augustine and I went into the cemetery to look around, and in that cemetery there are twelve graves, all in a row side—the graves of sailors This crew, some years ago, in a ship went into the harbor of St. Augustine, and when three miles away. My brother, then preaching at East Hampton, had been at the dock to see some men of the crew who were near being saved. The people from Amagansett saw the vessel and they started out in their surf boats and from the shore, and these poor fellows got into the boat and they pulled for the ship; but before they got to the shore the rope snapped and the boat capsized and they were lost, their bodies afterward washed upon the beach.

O! what a solemn day it was—I have been told of it by my brother—when these twelve men lay at the foot of the pulpit and he read over them the funeral service and the solemn words: "Forasmuch as it hath pleased Almighty God in his wise providence to take out of this world
